All Battlefronts in Germany Aflame As Drives Continue

From CP, AP and BTP Dispatches
ADVANCED BATTLE HEADQUARTERS, AEF, April 25.—Every battlefront in Germany is ablaze today as Red Army tankmen and gunners blast and burn their way through the heart of Berlin, while Canadian, British, American and French armies to the north and west of the burning capital close in for the kill on Nazi forces opposing them.

End Second Day City Stands at 10.4% of Quota in Loan Drive

During the second day of the 8th Victory Loan campaign 1,942 Edmontonians purchased $204,300 of bonds to bring the cumulative total for the first two days of the campaign to $458,820 with 1,921 individuals making purchases.

This compares with $602,700 subscribed during the first two days of the seventh loan by 1,611 and 2,000.

At San Francisco World Parley To Keep Peace Opening Today

Indicative of the desire of the individuals to "invest in the best," sales to date are 104 per cent of the $2,350,000 quota set for the city while in the previous loan a percentage of 11 per cent had been achieved on the quota set which was $800,000 below that of the present loan.

Alberta today was rearing along the story told in the 8th Victory Loan campaign, with total sales for the first two days of the drive totalling $215,000, and with the general canvass section having obtained 20 per cent of its quota.

The totals for the first two days exceed the amount for the same period of the 7th Victory Loan by nearly $200,000.

"We're in high gear right from the start of the campaign so let's keep it rolling," declared P. E. O'Brien, provincial chairman of the National War Finance Committee after being informed of the results at the end of the first two days of the campaign.

11,400 APPLICATIONS Applications for Victory Bonds, throughout Alberta totalled 11,400.

British Topple 2 Burma Towns

CALCUTTA, April 25.—(CP)—South British penetration of the rich Burma oil field area has topped the important transverse river towns of Yangon and Magway and 30 miles south of Kakadu, a Southeast Asia command, military reported today.

37 Survivors of Sinking 53 Missing as Canadian Sweeper Sent to Bottom by Foe Torpedo

OTTAWA, April 25.—(CP)—Loss by torpedoing in the North Atlantic of the Canadian minesweeper Geyser, with 53 crew members and 53 missing was announced today by Navy Minister Abbott. There were 37 survivors, eight of whom suffered injuries.

Time and location of the U-boat attack were not given but the Royal Navy rescue ship took the survivors to a British port, which might indicate the ship went down off the coast of Canada.

Stories from survivors indicated the ship did not sink immediately after being hit but that it was listing before it left the scene.

Torpedo damage included the sinking of the ship's water and the loss of the mainmast and a great deal of the ship's structure.

Subscriptions To War Loan At $12,851,750

OTTAWA, April 25.—(CP)—Total subscription received to the 8th Victory Loan called up to $12,851,750 today with the addition of purchases of $75,064,500 yesterday, second day of the three-week campaign for a minimum objective of $13,000,000.

A National War Finance Committee statement noted that Tuesday's sale was a little below the Seventh loan's second-day mark of $77,200,800 while the cumulative figure lagged behind the previous campaign total of $13,000,000.

Individual purchases reported Tuesday amounted to $1,619,050, a substantial increase over the $32,627,800 on the second day of the Seventh loan.

General public and armed forces applications in B.C. Yukon and Northwest Territories totalled 10,400, with the forces led by 10 divisions, with 58 per cent of their quota achieved.

The first subscriptions in West Vancouver were one for $250 from Harold Cheng, Chinese foreman at a local cannery.

Only unit in Saskatchewan was mentioned by the National War Finance Committee was a 30-year-old man, who wrote a letter for his 10-year-old wife. Both are natives of Germany who settled here years ago.

Nova Scotia reported record sales of $2,315,600 on the first day. In Halifax, members of the Chinese community were the first group to exceed their objective.

Direct Hit Scored As 6-Ton Earthquake Bombs Dropped

LONDON, April 25.—(RUP)—The Royal Air Force wrecked Adolf Hitler's country house near Berchtesgaden today with a direct hit by a six-ton earthquake bomb. It seemed certain that nobody in the house could have survived, but there was no assurance that Hitler was there. The German radio has insisted for three days that he is leading the defence of Berlin.

A force of Lancaster heavy bombers, escorted by American Mustang fighters, went gunning for Hitler's house—and possibly for Hitler's assassin.

Some of the big planes carried six-ton earthquake bombs, and Flight Sergeant E. J. Cutting, a Lancaster gunner, said he saw one of the huge bombs smash directly into Hitler's house.

ONE TERRIFIC FLASH I saw one terrific flash right on Hitler's house," Cutting said. "It was a terrific flash, and I saw it."

Two other targets in the area were attacked—hundreds which were large enough to house a good deal of the German army.

Stalin Announces Berlin Is Completely Encircled by Soviets

LONDON, April 25.—(CP)—Marshal Stalin today announced complete encirclement of Berlin and the Hamburg radio admitted that the Russians had reached the heart of the city.

The announcement of the encirclement came in an order directed jointly to Marshal Georgy Zhukov and Ivan Konev, which said the troops of the 1st White Russian and 1st Ukrainian Armies had linked up northwest of Potsdam.

Marshal Stalin said the junction cut all roads leading out of the capital and totally enclosed it.

The Hamburg radio reported the penetration to the centre of Berlin a short time before Marshal Stalin's order was broadcast from Moscow.

TREMBLOUS LOSSES "The Soviets were badly hit by German counterattacks in the centre of Berlin," the enemy stated in a broadcast.

Mustang Escort Pilot Describes Air Attack On Hitler's Sanctuary

The following account of the bombing of Berchtesgaden today is by a Mustang pilot from Mustang, who accompanied the Royal Air Force Mustangs on the mission.

By Lt. RICHARD PHANFEE Written for British United Press Exclusive To The Edmonton Bulletin

MUSTANG AIRCRAFT, Britain, April 25.—We were 20,000 feet up today and the explosion of the IAP bombs on Berchtesgaden shook our planes.

I saw the town of Berchtesgaden lying quietly in the valley among wooded hills. The sunlight was streaming into its streets and on its rooftops.

Hitler's estate, because I didn't know exactly where to look. But the country down there was flat and the town was just a small dot in the distance.

There was quiet and sunlight when we found the town. Then the first wave of RAF bombers struck. I was flying exact to the first of them, and I saw those bombs go down.

I felt they were striking exactly where I wanted. The second batch of them hit in the clearing just southeast of the town. There were great clouds of smoke and dust arose, hiding Berchtesgaden.

It was not clear at the start just what was going on. The first RAF wave went in with great accuracy. The second batch of them hit in the clearing just southeast of the town. There were great clouds of smoke and dust arose, hiding Berchtesgaden.

More People Buy

The Victory Loan campaign got away to a good start, in Alberta and across the Dominion. Opening subscriptions for this first issue totaled $4,664,700, nearly $2,000,000 more than on the opening day of the 7th Loan sale. Eight Alberta points reached their quota, against two in the rest of the day in the last campaign. Edmonton subscriptions netted $154,500, three times the opening day total of $51,500, and 100 per cent of the city's quota of $6,350,000.

The country over, subscriptions ran to $67,735,500, about 100 per cent of the objective of $1,350,000,000. This is slightly below the first day subscriptions in the 7th Loan campaign, but individual packages were smaller.

This is particularly significant. It counters the fear expressed in some quarters that people would not come out to buy now, because the danger of a Nazi victory has faded out. Canadians generally appear to see in that happy fact a reason why they should land the finishing financial punches with even more weight.

Service Comes First

Both railway executives have confirmed the view lately expressed by C.N.R. officials that operational difficulties make it impracticable to run a single-track operation in Edmonton. This will be moderately disappointing to a section of the public, but only moderately so. The convenience of a common station against two is not unlimited. And since the executives say a less satisfactory train service could be given from a single terminal that would more than offset any advantage to the customers.

Edmonton were likely to be invaded by other railways the situation would be quite different and the argument for a union station much stronger. But there is no such likelihood. The only railway systems operating in this part of the Dominion, and no more are in prospect. The present layout of tracks through the city may therefore be a permanent arrangement; and as the railways may give better service from two stations than one, that settles the question.

Now It Can Be Told

The 1st Canadian Corps has been moved from Italy to the western zone and is now in action in Holland. Canadian troops overseas are thus united and command a single army unit. Though the news has just been released the transfer began in February and was completed in March. The guns tanked and the troops were pulled out of the 8th Army lines in Italy, ferried across the Ligurian sea to Marseilles, and proceeded by road through France to the northern end of the Allied fighting line.

It can be disclosed now that in newspaper offices and in the homes throughout British Canada and the United States it was known that this movement was under way. But not a word of it got into print or on the air. So much for the enemy claim that democracies cannot cloak their military operations under a heavy blackout. The black-out will linger in the minds of German commandos who have been hounded on the western and eastern fronts with a regularity that has convinced the dumbest of them.

No doubt it was a happy reunion when the long divided Dominion Corps were rejoined; particularly happy because they have been assigned one of the most agreeable tasks possible, that of freeing the oppressed and abused people of Holland from five years of captivity.

The Work Cure

Covered by the Canadian 1st Army in northern Holland, German troops blew a gap in the casemate across the mouth of the Zuider Zee. Fourteen thousand acres of fertile reclaimed land, rendering it useless for years to come.

If this was the last war was an act of aggressive war. If it was not an act of war it was another application of the proclaimed Nazi policy to destroy where they cannot rule. Either case was wholly without justification, and calls for such compensation as it is possible to obtain for the loss of crops and future were deliberately ruined.

There are two ways in which compensation can be exacted. Both should be adopted. Nazi prisoners should be made to rebuild the casemate. The more distasteful the job, the harder the work, the longer they may take them, and the more the Germans can pay them for doing it, the more likely they will learn to curse the day they heard of Hitler and his plunder.

Five years ago no one would have thought their work of destruction would teach them any more than they will ever learn otherwise about the criminal folly of destroying other people's property. And while they wait for their flooded lands to regain fertility, Hollanders should be allowed to cultivate a corresponding acreage in the Soviet Union. The period of recovery is estimated at ten years. By the end of that time a lot of German civilians would also have learned the hard way that the rule of bandits must expect to pay damages.

At last one of Herr Hitler's intuitions came true. The other day he said the Russians were starting their "last" offensive against Berlin. They won't have to start another.

Allied soldiers gathered in auto-graphed photos of Herr Hitler, from dead and captured SS troops. If they don't want them as souvenirs they might pool them and let them be sold for the war effort. Most people would like to have one around the house, for the same reason they keep pictures of snakes.

Swiss authorities are reported to have advised Michel Petain to pass through their country en route to France, where he will face trial. Laval, according to the same despatches, was refused permission to pass through the country. This discrimination is not announced. Perhaps the officials thought that while they could trust Petain to leave the country as promised, Laval would need more watching than they cared to bother about.

The whereabouts of Hitler, Himmler, Goering and Goebbels is the subject of an international guessing contest. In their friends seem to be as much at sea as their enemies. "Göring or Monckmeier" locate the Fuehrer at four different places at the same time, while the others are located at five. The guessing game is a manifestation each at widely separated points. The fact appears to be that in this time of crisis the last-ditch leaders are more widely scattered, remote control from nobody knows where.

Many Patients Benefit From Free Medicine

Free maternity care and hospitalization as provided by the Alberta government will have cost approximately $314,000 in the first year of operation during which a period 15,230 patients will be benefited.

Costs and other data concerning the operation of free maternity hospitalization throughout the province, were made public Tuesday by Dr. M. R. Bow, deputy minister of public health.

Costs were estimated on the basis of the first 11 months of operation, from April 1, 1944, to Feb. 28, 1945.

REVEAL COSTS

Actual costs for the 11 months totalled $471,585 with 14,932 patients cared for.

Average period of hospitalization per patient was 10½ days. There are some 19,000 births in Alberta each year so it can be seen that a majority of Alberta mothers are availing themselves of the benefits of the plan.

The government has agreements with 90 provincial hospitals to pay all expenses of mothers and children for periods of 12 days.

An actual cost during the first year will likely be approximately $126,000 less than was estimated appropriation for the present fiscal year was set at $515,000 instead of $640,000 the previous year.

The Legislature at its last session approved an amendment providing for free maternity hospitalization in certain border areas of Saskatchewan and B.C., where the nearest hospitals in Alberta residents are in the neighboring provinces.

McDougall Church Program Subject

A broadcast of a recording made during the process of restoring the old McDougall Church north of the present McDougall United Church will be made Wednesday between 8 and 8:30 p.m. over Station CFRN.

The broadcast is part of a national series of broadcasts dealing with interesting historical and current phases of Canadian living, called "Domestic Scenes."

The old McDougall Church was originally constructed here in 1871 by the Rev. George McDougall, pioneer Methodist minister, who did much of the physical labor himself. In the restored church, due to be officially opened and dedicated early in June, as much of the pioneer atmosphere will be retained as possible.

The interior of the church will be walled with hewn logs, and will be divided into a chapel, complete with altar, pews, pulpit and organ, and a museum, in which will be displayed pictures and other reminders of early days in the Northwest.

The project has been undertaken by a committee representative of a cross-section of Edmonton life, the university, the city and various churches.

Wednesday's broadcast, handled by Gordon Bird of CFRN's staff, will present Prof. Robert Gair, faculty folklore expert, the Rev. Dr. A. K. McMillin and the Rev. Dr. F. S. McCall. Background to the program will be the sound of carpenters busily at work on the premises.

British Budget Is Submitted To Parliament

By JOHN DAUPHINEZ

LONDON, April 25.—(CP)—A $23,000,000,000 "victory" budget, providing no major relief from the wartime tax burden, despite sizeable reductions in estimated total expenditures and an overall deficit, was submitted to parliament yesterday by Sir John Anderson.

But the Chancellor of the Exchequer hinted there were likely to be substantial tax cuts before long, although a "high rate of taxation" necessarily would be continued for some years after the war.

The cuts might be contained in another budget which probably would be submitted before the end of the year, after Germany was beaten "some time in the early summer."

He crouches, hugs the wall, sprints from one doorway to another. A bullet smacks an inch above his head. He dives for cover.

He lies crouched in a shell-hole. Water seeps up from beneath. The cold, eternal rain sifts down. His leg, where a shell splinter has torn through it, throbs with pain. Night settles down.
